Bloomington — The City of Bloomington is seeking youth applicants to serve on a task force that will look at the potential of a new community center.

The task force will provide the City Council with the information and recommendations necessary to help the Council determine the possible future of a new community center. The task force will start meeting in early 2016 and may continue meeting periodically through mid-2017.

Youth ages 13 to 19 are encouraged to apply. For an application or more information, visit www.BloomingtonMN.gov, call 952-563-8717 or e-mail dkirby@bloomingtonmn.gov.
